It is said in the best-informed circles that a serious difference has arisen between Lord Dufferin and the Khedive and his Prime Minister, Sherif Pasha, as the two latter are unwilling to admit the complete separation of Egypt from Turkey which the English Government contemplates.

THE MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

The late Municipal elections held in this city teach the public severe truths and individuals severe humiliations. The Municipal law creating those elections was not framed in a hurry and passed in speed, but was the result of months of great labour and study on the part of its framer, Dr. del Viso. It was then discussed and debated "ad seriatim" by both Houses of Congress, it was reported upon by special committees, and was finally despatched and sent to the Executive for promulgation; but here it was stopped in its course for a year by the President's veto, who, with the keenest insight as to the possible workings of the new law, insisted that the nomination of the Lord Mayor should be the exclusive privilege of the National Government.

Finally, after much ado, this magnificent Municipal law, combining the liberties of the people with the suffrages of the humblest tax-paying "gringo," and giving to all, under certain safe restrictions, Municipal rights and Municipal privileges, was on last Sunday carried into effect; which effect has caused such a howl in the opposition papers, like the Nacional and the Libertad, that one is inclined to think that the offended vanity of rejected candidates may be the cause of such venemous Municipal spleen.

We shall not, however, condescend to consider the defeat of Mr Sarmiento in his own parish in the city where he once ruled as President, and by an apothecary, as any very remarkable evidence of the working of the new law. Mr Sarmiento, for the last few years, has been slipping down fast; and where the popular vote and popular esteem are essential to election, this remarkable old gentleman is always certain of defeat.

Since the beginning of the year, the Club Industrial, a sprig of an institution that has grown up amongst us, and which is supposed to embody the mechanical mind, capital and community of the town, has been most actively engaged in arranging parish lists and parish electoral centres. We had all imagined that, through the efforts and influence of this Club, the wealthy artizan class would come to the front. Again, in one of the South parishes, an English resident took such a very active part in canvassing for votes, publishing programmes, and on the day of election distributing his own list amongst his own parishioners, that we felt quite certain that one "Ingles," at least, would be elected on the Board, but the result has proved otherwise. Although there are many excellent, good names on the new Board—and we wish it the very best of success—still the members will have much to do to sustain their credit on a par with that of the present Board, and to convince the public that it is a gainer by the change.

Had the wealthy and representative men of Buenos Ayres gone heart and hand to support the new Municipal law, how different, indeed, would have been the result! But they studiously kept away from the tables, for what cause or motive we shall not say, and the result is that the Municipality passes into new hands, whose tasks and responsibilities are rendered doubly severe by the honour, straightforwardness and integrity of the Board that now retires from office.

THE TRENQUE-LAUQUEN TRAGEDY.

We received the following telegram from Lincoln yesterday; and, alhough we shrink from raising false hopes as to Mr. McClymont's fate, it may, after all, turn out that our correspondent is correct, and that the murdered party was not Mr. McClymont's. We sincerely hope it may prove so:—

LATEST FROM BRAZIL.

Rumours are again afloat that the Emperor is planning another trip to Europe.

It is stated that the projected Gothic cathedral in Petropolis is estimated to cost 1,000,000$.

The number of yellow fever patients received at the Jurujuba hospital from Jan. 1st up to the 5th inst. was 528.

The Jornal de Commercio entered upon its 63rd year on the 2nd inst. It barely escaped having its anniversary one day earlier.

The new steamer Mayrink, constructed in England for the Bahia and Minas company, arrived in port on the evening of the 4th inst.

A large number of the English residents of this city have recently left for Europe. The Pacific and Royal Mail packets of the 9th inst. were crowded.

The commandant of the corvette Trajano reports to the government with much satisfaction that during the recent trip of the vessel to Pernambuco not one case of castigation occurred.

Owing to the existence of yellow fever in this city, a quarantine of 10 days has been imposed at Montevideo and Buenos Aires. In the last named case the quarantine counts from the date on which the vessel left this port.

The residents of Campo Grande have petitioned the Emperor for assistance. Owing to the defective drainage and the character of the season, that parish has been lately afflicted with malarial fevers of a bad type, and its poor people are therefore in great distress.

At a session of the municipal council on the 12th inst. a motion was made that the aldermen all resign their offices and submit themselves to a new election in order to determine the opinion of the electors on the differences between them. The motion was voted down by a vote of 7 to 6.

The Minister of Agriculture has ordered the issue of postal letter cards for foreign correspondence, the stamp to be 200 reis. As the ordinary postage on foreign correspondence is 200 reis also, the public will probably fail to appreciate the advantages of the new card.

The President of Paraná has informed the Government that his telegram to the effect that the suspension of the "regulamente" for the 1½ per cent. tax on sales would not injure the dignity of the Government, was tampered with by some telegraph operator by inserting the word "not." In his exalted opinion the recall of an oppresive, obnoxious measure would injure this vital attribute of government.

The Government has appointed Dr. Paulo Frontin as an expert on the part of the national treasury in the question of demolishing the new bathing house illegally constructed on the Passeio Publico. Just why an expert is needed to examine into the demolishing of a building constructed contrary to orders, it is difficult to understand, but should the owner of the establishment carry his point, we shall then fully appreciate all the many questions involved, which none but an expert can pass judgment upon.

The Minister of Agriculture has recently published a circular letter to accompany an application of Mr J C Branner to planters for special information upon cotton cultivation in Brazil. Mr Branner, who is now in this city, has been studying the insect enemies of the cotton plant in Pernambuco under instructions of the United States department of agriculture, and is desirous of obtaining as far as possible all particulars relating to this subject. The subject is so important an one that it is to be hoped that the fullest responses will be given to his questions.

We have received some samples of a new disinfectant, called Philonium, from Messrs C F Süssekind & Co., who have undertaken its introduction into this city. It is a vegetable preparation, in powder, easy to use, and possesses an agreeable fragance. It is said that the eucalyptus enters largely into its composition. The new disinfectant has already been introduced into the Argentine Republic, and is now in general use in B Aires.

The Cordillera's Mails

London, March 31st.

At the Belfast assizes this morning sentences were passed upon the prisoners convicted of complicity in the Grossmaglen outrages, and of connection with the Patriotic Brotherhood. Mr Justice Lawson sentenced Nugent, Daily, Kelly, and Watters to ten years' penal servitude, McBride to seven years' penal servitude, and O'Hanlan to five years' penal servitude. The sentences passed upon Devlin, Geoghegan, Hanratty, and the other prisoners were ten years' penal servitude.

It is stated to-day that the police authorities have received a letter purporting to issue from the Fenian Society, intimating that if their 'brethren,' the Phœnix Park murderers, were not forthwith released by the Government, "sweet revenge will be had by the blowing-up of the Central Post and Telegraph Buildings, at St. Martin's-le-Grand, during the present week." Special vigilance has accordingly been enjoined upon the police patrols, who will keep a strict watch on all visitors.

The official Moniteur Egyptien to-day announces that only Hussein Pasha and Hassan Pasha have been authorised by the Khedive to return to Egypt.

Notwithstanding all assertions to the contrary, I am in a position to state that Lord Dufferin will certainly return to Constantinople before proceeding to London, and it is equally certain that he will have an audience of the Sultan in order to repeat once more the friendly assurances which have been given to the Porte in regard to our action in Egypt.

The Republique Francaise to-day declares that England must be held responsible for any damage which the insurrection in the Soudan may cause to Egypt and civilisation.

A neat cemetery has been laid out at Tel-el-Kebir, and the bodies of all the soldiers who were killed in the recent campaign have been collected and buried in it.

A growing feeling of dependency (says the Cairo correspondent of the Times) is noticeable among the new British officials, in view of the impossibility of effecting any lasting reforms under the present system. "We are attempting too much or too little. Radical reforms are equally necessary and incompatible with the existing situation. The gendarmerie officers in the interior ask what is the use of wasting time in looking for abuses when no power aids them, or when the powers that might aid, thwart them in the application of remedies. Unless we are prepared to abolish the Capitulations, to readjust the Law of Liquidation, and, temporarily at least, accept the responsibilities of an open and complete Control, our interference will have been worse than useless. We are employing the foundations of a tottering house to erect the second storey."

The remains of Mr John Brown, the Queen's late personal servant, are still lying in his apartment at Windsor Castle, the white blinds of the windows near at hand on the south side of the Palace overlooking the Home Park being closely drawn. The polished oak coffin now in course of construction will bear the following inscription:—

"John Brown, born 8th December, 1829; died 27th March, 1883."

At the residence of Mr Archibald Brown, one of the brothers of the deceased, who was formerly servant to Prince Leopold, the blinds are also closely drawn; and in the Royal Borough, where Mr Brown was well known and greatly respected, much regret is evinced at his decease.

The remains will, it is expected, be removed from the Castle about Monday, and conveyed by train to Scotland for interment in Crathie Kirkyard, Aberdeenshire. Her Majesty will probably not quit Windsor till the remains of her late servant have been removed from the Palace to their final resting place.

The death of this trusty and respected servant of the Queen will cause sincere regret to those who knew him, and it may well be taken as a warning by all who consider the circumstances under which he contracted the "cold" that brought him to an untimely end. He did not complain of feeling ill till Saturday evening last. On Sunday morning severe erysipelas appeared of the nose and cheek, which gradually spread over the whole head, with a great deal of fever. On Monday he became delirious, on Tuesday afternoon coma supervened, and he died about twenty minutes to eleven on Tuesday night. He was seen from the first by Sir W Jenner, who attended him to the last, in consultation with Dr Reid. If any man can be held to be constitutionally armed against the perils of chill, or comparatively slight exposure this robust Highlander might have been so regarded; but the event has proved that a somewhat long drive in an open trap on a bleak day, and an hour or two spent standing about in the cold, might prove more than even his hardy frame could bear. In truth, no organism is naturally protected so that the depressing effects of a suddenly or persistently lowered temperature must be powerless to hinder. The Queen is in excellent health, though greatly affected by the death of her personal attendant, who has served her so faithfully for over thirty-four years.

Mr Archibald Brown is now in the service of her Majesty.

"NUMBER ONE."

The Soleil publishes the account of an interview which one of its staff had with "Number One." The reporter explains that he has never mentioned the interview before, lest indiscretion on his part should have led to grave consequences; but now that "Number One" is safe on foreign territery, he has no longer any reason for being silent. The writer says he met 'Number One' in January last, and was convinced from his answers that he knew more than he cared to declare about the Phœnix Park murders. Tynan, he says, was a strongly-built tall man of about forty-five years of age. During his leisure hours he had occupied himself with politics, and was captivated by the study of the secret societies. When James Stephens had organized Fenianism and had prepared his plan, Tynan was ready to execute it. Till the recent confession made by James Carey, Tynan had remained unknown. Carey called him "Number One," and did not know his real name. The reporter says:—

Tynan in his various interviews with the members of the Invincible Society never spoke English with the same accent. Sometimes he spoke like a Scotchman, at others like an Irishman. More over, he was careful never to meet the same individuals more than once. James Carey, who had been placed by his orders in Phœnix Park on the 6th May, seeing him for the first time, asked him his name. Tynan replied, "I am Number One." He was known by that title by all the conspirators, who were never able to discover his real name. After the crime in the Phœnix Park Tynan remained in hiding in Dublin for about twelve days. He then proceeded to London, where he remained till last January. He came to Paris before the Carnival week, but stayed only a few days. Tynan then went to Cannes, where he was living at the same time as Mr Gladstone. During the fetes given at Nice he was under the balcony of the Prefect's official residence. On his return to Paris Tynan was put on his guard by the arrest of Byrne and Walsh, and his friends advised him to leave France. Tynan's idea was to go to New York, but he was dissuaded from it by his friends. A consultation, at which there were present about a dozen of his fellow-countrymen and a French lawyer, was held in Paris. After long deliberation, it was decided that Tynan should seek refuge in Mexico, which has no extradition treaties.

The reporter then relates how he sailed for New York, where he landed and proceeded at once to Mexico.

MR. A. M. SULLIVAN'S APPEAL TO THE IRISH IN AMERICA.

The subjoined appeal to the Irish in America against the incendiary projects of the dynamite party, appears this week in several of the principal Irish journals oft he United States:—

"Sir—The Atlantic cable informs us this morning (February 24th) that certain Irishmen in America propose to 'help' their countrymen at home, by redoubled energy in the dynamite direction. 'What happened in Chicago,' we are told, 'through the accidental upsetting of a kerosene lamp,' can be outdone by 50 or 100 sworn agents here in London, and [illegible]forth.' Even before I visited America I knew fairly well the average value and purposes of these announcements, that they were generally, though not always, composed for the express purpose of being cabled to London and being quoted in the House of Commons, so that the subscribers should hurry up with the dollars, seeing how mortally 'John Bull' was being 'frightened.' I know that the leaders of Irish affairs here refused to regard these things seriously, and discouraged all notice of them as calculated only to serve a mischievous purpose. I am equally well aware of the efforts which you and nearly every man of note and character among Irish nationalists in America—revolutionary and non-revolutionary—have consistently made to keep the Irish cause within the lines of fair and honourable warfare. Yet in view of passing events I cannot refrain from offering just now a few words which I pray may not be wrongly judged or misunderstood. I am not foolish enough to imagine anything I could say would move from their purpose, if they really have such purpose, the men who have irrevocably committed themselves to what is called the dyuamite policy. On the other hand, I think they will concede that I have a fair right to speak out on such a point to the thousands of my countrymen who have not hitherto yielded themselves to such projects, but who, under passing circumstances, may be provoked to weigh them as possibly both justifiable and useful. For my own part, I hold that that which is morally wrong can never be truly called honourable, and that that which is neither moral nor honourable can never be really expedient for men who stand by the good old principle of 'death before dishonour.' Yet I will for the moment pass by the higher and nobler moral considerations of this matter, and put it from another point of view. I am one of nearly two millions of Irishmen resident on this side of the Irish Channel. Our homes are in the midst of the cities that are, forsooth, to be kerosened and dynamited. Our little ones are to roast in the fires which chivalrous friends (safe and sound 4,000 miles away) in New York or Peoria are to send men to start around us. The brute creation will fight for its young. Are we lower and baser than they? Could we hearken unmoved to childhood's shriek from garret and nursery, calling in vain on 'father' for rescue? Should we, forsooth, coolly answer back to our perishing children, 'burn, burn away, dear little ones,' in order that Mr. Crowe, of far-off Peoria, may feel that he has 'frightened John Bull.' Let there be no mistake about it—2,000,000 of Irishmen in Great Britain are entitled to a voice in a matter which concerns them more than it does Irishmen anywhere else. It is a wise old proverb, that 'those who make the game should pay the stakes." Let those gentlemen in America, who feel so inclined, burn up their own children if they will. Let them make a game in which they will pay the stakes, and not play at other people's risk. They are very patriotic and generous with burning up homes and families that are not their own. I put it to them whether this is very manly or very brave on their part, 4,000 miles away.

"But perhaps on the eve of the conflagration they would give secret warning to the 100,000 Irish of Liverpool or the 100,000 of London to move quietly out of the way with their households, while the homes and families of their English neighbours and fellow-workmen were being treacherously fired? Brilliant idea! What a 'secret' that would be! Fancy 200,000 people moving out of the way of Mr. Crowe's pétroleurs unknown to any of their neighbours. No, no; the firing of any large English city at the present day means (apart from every other enormity) the treacherous destruction of tens of thousands of innocent Irishmen, women and children.

"Suppose they had not 'moved away;' suppose them so base as to give no warning to their English neighbours and friends, doomed to helpless destruction, what would be their fate next day? Better for them, too, they had perished in the flames. They would be hunted down like wolves and slain without mercy. This is the fate, such the penalty, being valorously prepared for us by men secure and safe in Manhattan and Illinois. Why, Sir, even their mere vapourings in the press and their tin-canister foolings about the London Mansion-house and Liverpool City-hall have brought suffering and destitution into Irish homes in this country. Not only have Irishmen been refused employment, but many of them in comfortable positions have been dismissed, with no cause, save the not very unnatural apprehension of their English employers. Indeed, of the scores who have sought my poor assistance in their distress, not a man of them blamed those employers, considering all they had read in the papers as to projected burning of warehouses and docks.

"It is, in such a case as this, an argument from a very low level to discuss the mere expediency of those projects. If anything and everything be justifiable to any and every man against any one whom he on any ground dislikes—if there is no such being as God, and no tribunal of religion, conscience and morality to judge human conduct, of course men may imitate the tiger and the hyena, and all resorts are much the same. But the Irish people believe in God, and in a tribunal established by Him to justly judge and wisely direct the thoughts and actions of mankind. Of all subjects life-taking or blood-spilling is the one on which, among Catholics especially, individuals are not allowed to be sole judges for themselves; and the line between what is lawful and not lawful, even in open war, between parties entitled to make war, is one which only the tribunal or authority which we, as Catholics, believe in, can for us, rightly and safely, settle and determine. Even between belligerent nations in time of war such resorts to treachery and murder as I am alluding to would be forbidden. But 'all things are lawful against England.' Are they? What tribunal of public morality or religious accountability has settled that point? And what is meant by 'England?' Is it unarmed Englishmen and women and children? If so, are we to cut the throats of any of 'the enemy' we can take at a disadvantage on a lonely road or in a railway train? If so, are we to 'frighten England' by battering out the brains of any little English boys or girls we can catch coming home from school? What is the difference in morality between employing men to treacherously burn down London at no matter what sacrifice of human life, and employing them to poison the water mains, and so kill 'the enemy' by millions? Or suppose some handful of men secede from Mr. Crowe and call him 'half-hearted,' because he shrinks from a magnificent scheme for a simultaneous dosing of the London milk supply with strychnine, would they be entitled to call themselves 'Ireland' and to make 'war' on 'England' after this fashion? If the world could produce a body of men capable of any such line of action as that, the nations and peoples of Christendom would, I hope and believe, confederate to exterminate them as human monsters.

"Right well I know no such cowardice and atrocity dare be practised or really will be practised. But while those men on your side of the water who publish such schemes are only thinking of how to 'frighten John Bull,' or to 'put Sir William Harcourt in a rage,' as some of them declared to me last autumn, they are not frightening England a bit, but they are doing horrible injury to Irishmen and to Ireland. They are evicting honest Irishmen from good employments and comfortable homes, and casting them into cruel poverty. They are hurling Irish girls upon the streets of English cities. They are, before my eyes, driving Irish children of tender years to mendicancy and crime in the gutters and slums of London.

"I ask even the most irreconcileable Irish-American Nationalists to weigh fairly what I say. During my recent visit to America, as I freely own and warmly remember, all classes and sections of my countrymen extended much kindness to me; and I hold by the resolution I then formed to be always as considerate as I could be for their views, no matter how wide the chasm may be between us in almost any case. They may be assured that this remonstrance is compelled from me, not alone by very obvious moral and public principles, but as well by consideration for the welfare of the Irish people and the honour of the Irish cause, which I should consider it grievous cowardice for any man to evade at a moment like the present.

"Yours very faithfully,
"A. M. Sullivan.

AID FOR THE STARVING IRISH CHILDREN.

Although we sympathise deeply with the cause of the Starving little ones in Ireland, we feel bound to publish the following eloquent letter from the Rev. Father O'Reilly, as it contains many solemn truths which our countrymen at home and abroad might profitably ponder on:—

To the Editor of the Standard,

Sir,

I have no doubt the persons who started the said charitable subscription to feed the starving Irish children were actuated by the best and most benevolent intentions; and that those who aid and contribute for the same purpose do so from the same motives. Up to the present the success has not been very marked; a fact which can hardly be said to be regretted. I hope no one will be deterred from subscribing by any remarks of mine I have often thought, and become perplexed. (I suppose I have not been the only one,) what blight, what adverse fate, what curse even, hangs over this native land of ours, that it must be ever paraded as a beggar, and beholden to the charity of the nations, who generally pity her, and sometimes despise her for being so, yet, the poet who knew her well, and loved her too, tells us: "She is a rich and a rare land."

Is there distress in Ireland, and is it such as to have a claim on other nations? Months ago the Government that rules the destinies of that country was warned that dire famine with its accompanying horrors was inevitable in many districts, unless speedy and efficacious means were taken to withstay it.

The Government appointed a commission of inquiry, who reported there was nothing unusual, and that could not be met by the ordinary means.

The promoters and subscribers to the fund have great faith, I believe, in that Government, as loyal subjects, in duty bound.

Notwithstanding the report to the contrary, and that most loyal and royal commission, it seems there is distress to a woeful extent, and has been as long as most of us remember. But who are culpable and responsible for this distress? If it be the people themselves, are they really deserving of succour, which only serves to prolong their miserable and despicable state of dependancy?

At different times, and in different countries, floods, fires, pestilence and other severe visitations have reduced great numbers, the poor and opulent alike, to a state of destitution. In such cases the sufferers have an urgent and undoubted claim on the assistance of the more fortunate. In the present instance such is hardly the case; as distress may be said to be periodical, the outgrowth of some culpable mismanagement, wherever the fault lies. The bulk of the people stand to their chin in the water, the slightest rise or ruffle of which is sufficient to engulph them.

If the fault lies in other quarters, which is more likely, though it may not in all cases, is such an unnatural state of things to be perpetuated; and shall succour he forthcoming from other quarters, to sustain so degrading and demoralising a situation? I cannot view it in any other light.

In years gone by, at the remembrance of which many still blush with shame, soup-pots were set boiling throughout Ireland, and the contents measured out to starving and famishing wretches, as a barter for their religions belief. Now the pots are in operation again, but for a different purpose. I refer to the ladies' programme. A spirit for national and social rights is making itself felt throughout the country, which must be crushed, so my Lady Bountiful sends round the hat, and sets her pots a boiling; she will feed the children, "unmindful if the parents' sins," who are expected to be for ever after grateful and obedient.

The appeal is made in behalf of the Starving Children. Whatever faults the Irish have, I scarcely think they are so inhuman, that the parents would feed sumptuously, heedless of their starving offspring. But of late they have shown a naughty and unruly temper; like Oliver Twist, 'they asked for more.'

Those children may survive the mess of pottage, but they will never digest it. They will have forfeited their birthright and will look on themselves ever afterwards as the mean slaves of cruel circumstances. It is needless to say how useful and ornamental to society such subjects become.

Under ordinary circumstances every country, especially when it is rich and fertile, should be selfsupporting. Ireland is such; for her pasture lands feed and fatten immense numbers of cattle and sheep, and her corn fields yield abundant harvests, all which go, with many other things besides, to feed her more prosperous neighbours and enrich the owners of the soil, who live and spend their incomes abroad; whilst the toilere and their children die of want, unless succoured by extraneous charity, and her population dwindles away year by year.

Mr. Carroll, in urging the appeal very aptly remarks, "It seems a bitter commentary on our boasted progress of this century to have to record that, while our legislators are discussing political economy, or hair-splitting over so-called remedial measures, the unhappy objects of their tardy legislation are dying of hunger!!" Yes a Government that claims to be liberal and enlightened has set in tardy motion a clumsy machine, the working of which has cost the nation far more than would relieve the present distress; whilst the persons who pointed out the defects and strove to simplify its construction, were rewarded with imprisonment. The same men long since indicated the unhealthy and exhausted state of the nation, and recommended restoratives and nourishment to restore an equilibrium in the system. The doctors, true to the old system and teaching, held wise and solemn council, and recommended bleeding, and declared the new-fangled ideas dangerous, and the promoters of the same, who must be locked up as such. They thought the nation was feverish and excited, and that at any moment she might become delirious and unmanageable; therefore say they, bleed her, weaken her, or we may not be able to restrain her. We cannot nourish her but we can give £5 a head to depopulate her. "The Duchess of Marlborough has handed over the balance of £3,600 to Mr Tuke's Emigration Fund, this being the amount over the sum collected by her Grace to relieve the distress in 1879." 'Irish papers.' Why was not this sum applied to the purposes for which it was subscribed? If it was not wanted then, why not make use of it now?

North Americans are holding meetings to protest against this impoverished and irritated blood being thrown on their shores. They say, and I think with reason, "you have brought about and sustained this unnatural state of things, it is your own business to look to it." If my remarks are distasteful to some, not less so to me and others I think also, is the parading of this subscription list, to feed the Starving Irish Children.

What would the people of Europe say of us here, if we sent begging for our poor, whilst our large estancias are overstocked with sheep and cattle, and our wheat and corn are being shipped to other ports? Would it be fair for one ship to hoist the flag of distress and beg provisions from another, whilst she herself is heavily laden with provisions and riches, which the owners keep locked for their own exclusive use, and by the disposal of which they enrich themselves, heedless of the sailors' wants, who toiled and endangered their lives in their service.

I think the answer should be; "use your own first, then buy while you have the money, than solicit?" The same I would say to the people of any nation in distress. If the fault be entirely your own, you don't deserve help, if not, the mildest way I would put it is, you shouldn't starve surrounded by abundance. If those noble ladies, whose honoured names grace this begging list, devoted a reasonable percentage of their incomes to the object for which they beg, it would not be necessary to so humiliate their unfortunate fellow-creatures.

Doubtless the cause of the present distress, by many here, as elsewhere will be attributed to Mr. Parnell and Co., and the land agitation. In reply, I would answer, distress was more universal and acute, before the land agitation came into existence. Instead of the agitation causing distress, the distress was the origin of the agitation, which was got up and directed by many brave and generous patriots, who, sympathising with their fellow-countrymen in their down-trodden condition, strove to elevate them by obtaining for them social and political rights; and if they were ever so much mistaken they have the merit, which even their enemies cannot deny them, that their efforts are directed to the removal of the cause of this ever-recurring misery.

We commend to the attention of all interested in the welfare of Ireland the following extracts from Mr. Henry George's "Poverty and Progress":—

Had Ireland been by nature a grove of 'bananas' and bread-fruits, had her coasts been lined by the 'guano' deposits of the Chinchas and the sun of lower latitudes warmed into more abundant life her moist soil, the social conditions which have prevailed there would still have brought forth poverty and starvation. How could there fail to be pauperism and famine in a country where rack-rents wrested from the cultivator of the soil all the produce of his labour, except just enough to maintain life in good seasons, where tenure-at-will forbade improvements and removed incentive to any but the most wasteful and poverty-stricken culture; where the tenant dare not accumulate capital, even if he could get it, for fear the land-lord would demand it in the rent; where, in fact, he was an abject slave, who at the nod of a human being like himself might at any time be driven from his miserable mud cabin, a houseless, homeless starving wanderer, forbidden even to pluck the spontaneous fruits of the earth, or to trap a wild hare to satisfy his hunger. No matter how sparse the population, no matter what the natural resources, are not pauperism and starvation necessary consequences in a land where the producers of wealth are compelled to work under conditions which deprive them of hope, of self-respect, of energy, of thrift, where absentee land-lords drain away without return at least a-fourth of the net produce of the soil, and where besides them a starving industry must support resident land-lords with their horses and hounds, agents, jobbers, middle-men and bailiffs, an alien State Church to insult religious prejudices, and an army of policemen and soldiers to over-awe and hunt down any opposition to the iniquitous system? Is it not impiety far worse than atheism to charge upon natural laws misery so caused?"

Yours truly,
Samuel O'Reilly.

EDITOR'S TABLE

We shall have to challenge either the Postmaster-General or the proprietor of the river steamers to mortal combat, or—happy thought!—let them fight it out, and if the duel prove fatal to both, the public won't go into mourning for either. We did not receive the Cordillera's mails till two o'clock yesterday, and, of course, merchants, bankers and lower-chop fry were in the same fix. Late mails are now chronic with the G. P. O.

The Diario contains some rather queer revelations about Cacique Pincen, who, it appears, is out all night, hunting "gamas," in spite of Mrs. P.'s conjugal remonstrances, and comes back every morning at daybreak, so his complicity in the recent outrages is more than suspected.

Congress will probably open on Thursday next. President Roca's Message is already in the hands of the printers.

We publish a telegram from Lincoln which leaves some hope that Mr. McClymont and his party were not the victims murdered by the Indians. We most fervently trust it may be true, though it be almost hoping against hope, after all the details received.

The old Corporation meet for the last time to-day. On Tuesday the new members take their seats.

A leading English subscriber has kindly sent us for publication Mr. A. M. Sullivan's eloquent appeal to the Irish in America, which had escaped our notice in the high-pressure hurry of our daily duties. Every Irishman whose heart and brains are in the right place, must endorse what Mr. Sullivan says.

The programme for the Lanus Races on May 3rd, the proceeds of which are to go to the British Hospital and the Irish Orphanage, was given round yesterday, and promises splendid sport. There are six events on the card, opening with the "Ladies' Purse" and closing with the "High Life." Old horses and new are entered, and we are much mistaken if it do not prove the most brilliant meeting for a long time. Quite independent of the sport promised, all the British nationalities here are bound to remember the charitable object of the meeting and to attend it if they can.

Our fashionable subscriber who promised to send us an account of Mrs. John Drysdale's ball on Thursday evening was unable to attend; but we heard in all quarters yesterday that it was one of the most splendid entertainments of the kind ever given in this city.

The mails from Chile report quite a flabbergasted feeling there owing to the reduction made by the Argentine Government in duties on goods in trauait to Bolivia. Some sapient official recommends the Chilian Government to retaliate by raising the duty on goods to Bolivia at Arica and Tacna! How Cobden must laugh in his grave, if he ever thought of Chile while alive.

We made a very big mistake in saying the other day that Dr. Luis Basualdo left for Europe in company with his Señora. All the High Life Porteñas are down on us for calling such a "buen mozo" "casado." We beg to apologise to all the señoritas and to all mothers who have marriageable daughters.

The 'Confiteria Anglo-Alemana, corner of Piedad and San Martin—better known as the famed "Sandwich Hall," was crammed to the doors all day yesterday by a hungry and thirsty crowd. We stepped in at lunch hour and found the cream of the business world feeding like cormorants on the latest invention of the enterprising proprietor, Mr. Peire—the "Lady Dixie" sandwich (a most delicious compound,) and washing it down with the first consignment, direct to the Hall, of the famed Guinness's Dublin Stout and Bass's Pale Ale. Fifteen barrels of each come out to the "Hall" per fortnightly steamer from these two most famous breweries in the world, and three paper dollars per big glass is very cheap indeed for such nectar. Mr. P and his assistants all had lumbago in the evening from their exertions in taking in so much money for Dixies, Stout and Bass.

The rage for notoriety in Europe is really exceeding all bounds. In Brussels lately the Marchioness d'Hauteville went into the lions'den in a public menagerie, before a crowded audience, and stood there, pale but firm, while seven huge lions were made to pass twice before her by the keeper. Disgusting. Utterly so.

The recent case of Castro versus Casey wound up in a curious manner. Castro and two witnesses swore that Casey was a "gringo," born in England. Casey then not only produced the proofs of his birth here, but asked the Federal Judge to commit Castro and his two witnesses for perjury. We don't know if this was done, but the hard swearing of Castro secured Mr. Casey the case with costs.

On Wednesday night the 'manzana' between Peru, Chacabuco, Moreno and Alsina was the scene of a curious chase after a "pobre diabolo" who was arrested at midnight on suspicion, purely because he looked the "ne plus ultra" of a "dead-beat," which is American for tattered vagabond. At half-past midnight he escaped to the roof of the Comisaria, and the police gave chase From that hour till 4 a.m. he dodged them successfully about the roofs of the whole square, the neighbours, scared by the shouts, turning out revolver in hand, to help the police. At last the quarry descended and made a bolt into the street at the door of Casares's corralon, where twelve "vigilantes" with drawn swords were waiting for him. Astounding to relate, he bounded through them like a wild-cat, untouched, but was stopped and captured by three mounted policemen at the corner of Moreno. He only grinned and refused to speak a word, when his gasping pursuers questioned him. He should be liberated, as he was arrested on bare suspicion. He is a Deerfoot.

The highest tide known since Creation will be experienced some day next month. It will be most remarkable in Ceylon. We hope there won't be a Hopkins storm here on the same day.

What about the Swimming Baths at Belgrano? Lives there a man with skin so dead to the touch of King Frost, that he can take a "header" these mornings? We'll k-night him, if we can learn his name.

Kidneys rose 1,000 per cent in price in the markets on Monday morning—owing to all the free and enlightened "puesteros" having been absent on Sunday, voting at the Municipal elections,

At Lujan the other day, some thief made an April fool of a Mr. Mayo, to the tune of 2,000 of the best paper dollars, and then shook the dust of that classic town from his feet, singing "Oh! dearest May." Cruel irony.

A little child of seven or eight said that when the Bible speaks of "children's children" it must mean dolls.

We heartily congratulate the Manager of the Anglo-Argentine Tramway on his edict against smoking in the Flores cars. He will be a "white-headed boy" with the ladies for the rest of his natural life; and if other tram managers have any sense, they will at once change the colour of their wigs, on the same entrancing condition.

Our railway travelling is beginning to improve. The Pergamino express from the Plaza Once, which will start at 6.45 a.m., will bowl along at 37 kilometres per hour, and do the distance in 6¼ hours. Although 30 miles an hour is snail's speed from our English point of view, it is of the "lightning" order in this "mañana" country.

Congress has begun badly. There was "no quorum" for the preliminary meeting of Deputies called for Thursday.

Governor Rocha and family have gone to La Plata for a month's retirement after their recent sad bereavement.

We fully endorse the following tribute which the Southern Cross pays to the memory of the venerable lady whose death we announced some days ago:—

"It is our sorrowful duty to announce the death of Mrs Gaharran, of Lujan. This aged and venerable lady departed this life on Wednesday morning, after a short illness. It was the will of Providence that she should suffer affliction in her old age, for only a few weeks before her death she saw her son, in the bloom and vigour of life, cut down by the same unrelenting destroyer. Her funeral, which took place yesterday, was one of the largest ever seen in Lujan. We tender to her esteemed family the sincere tribute of our condolence."

"There, never mind," said the dentist, soothingly, as he twisted the tooth around once or twice to loosen it up; "never mind, it won't hurt." "No," gasped the victim, "I know it won't, but it does just now, and that's what interests me."

HOW NOT TO DO IT.

THE INTERMINABLE LENGTH OF RED TAPE UNWOUND IN ENGLISH OFFICIAL CIRCLES.

A rather amusing though exasperating instance of "how not to do it" and of the solemn foolery of English official ways recently occurred at one of the English dockyards. The channel fleet had weighed anchor at Plymouth to undergo some necessary repairs. In looking over one of the vessels it was found that one of the copying machines in one of the officer's rooms was worn out, and the paymaster was ordered to procure a new one, which would entail an expense of fifty cents. And then began the tug of war. He first made out, on a huge official form, full of "whereas," and "wherefores," an elaborate statement of the facts of the case, describing in minute detail the article which was wanted. After signing this document it was sent to the captain to be signed by him. Then the Admiral of the fleet signed it. Then, after a dignified delay the Admiral sent it to the dockyard officials. After they had taken time to think over the meaning of the document a deputation of them went in funeral silence to the ship where the worn-out machine was, and, after looking at it solemnly, went back and drew up another elaborate document, saying that the elaborate document previously drawn up was correct. This new form was sent to the captain, who gave it to his private secretary, who gave it to the de

STIMULATE THE FALLING HAIR. If your hair is thinning out, remember that underneath the here scalp there exist the germs for another growth, which requires a stimulant to bring it through the epidermis and produce luxurious tresses. Apply the Oriental Tonic often, using the hairbrush vigorously in order to excite the absorbing pores, so that they may receive it, and its effects, will prove beneficial. The experience of all those using the Tonic, is that it not only strengthens the hair, but also increases it. In warm climates where ladies inadvertently have recourse to deleterious oils, it will be found superior to dress the hair, imparting to it lustre, elasticity, and beuty.

ON 'CHANGE.

April 27th, 1883.

Patacon	25.00
Cedulas A	100⅝
Cedulas E	86½
National Bank Shares	105½

The transactions in Cedulas to-day were as follows:—3,800 A for cash at 100-⅜; 60,600 E do at 86½; 65,000 for April 30 at 86½-⅝; 40,000 for May 31 at 86⅝; 10,000 to deliver do at 86½.
Nat. Bank Shares, 59 for cash at 105½; 809 for April 30 at 105⅝-½-⅝, 106, 105⅝-¾-106; 1,050 for May 31 at 107-106¾-⅞; 200 for May 5th at 106½.
Nat. Bank Shares maintain a firm aspect, and, though prices do not advance much, we shall not be surprised to see higher ratio paid for the liquidation. The bears continue pressing their sales for May, which has led to some important transactions to-day, notably one for 500 Shares, which were taken by a leading firm of brokers.
The Cedula market has ruled weaker to-day and prices dropped somewhat. It is reported that the leading operator for the fall has obtained the loan of sufficient Cedulas to enable him to deliver all he has sold, so that the prospect of a corner disappears.
Discounts—The private banks, as customary at the approach of the end of the month, are less disposed for business, and we cannot quote under 7½ to 8 o/o for good pagarés.
For loans on Shares there is an abundance of money at 10-11 o/o p. a. Some further amounts were taken up to-day on Shares and Cedulas.
Exchange 49½ drawers.
The sad news of the death of Capt. Muir was reported to-day. He fell overboard from his steamer at Santa Fé and was drowned. He was well and favourably known as Captain of the Emilia, and other steamers trading to Paraguay during the war.
£250,000 in gold have arrived in the steamers Leibnitz and Cordillera, consigned to the London and River Plate Bank, Italian Bank, and R. Huxham & Co. Exchange on Montevideo has fallen to ½ p. cent. This importation of gold is the consequence of the heavy premium lately paid in this market for sovereigns for shipment to Montevideo.
The sales afterhours were—
1500 Nat. Bank shares, 106, April 30.
500 do do May 31, 107-7¼.
There was a brisk demand for shares, and at one time 106½ was demanded; the market closes with buyers at 106 for April 30.
In Cedulas not much doing, sellers holding out for 86½. 20,000 sold.
General Mitre was entertained at a public dinner on April 24th in Santiago, given by the most distinguished men of the city. Lord Cochrane, who had purposely come to Santiago for this dinner, spoke at great length and in very flattering terms regarding this country. The General started yesterday for the estancia La Aguila, property of the Toro Herrera family. Vicuña MacKenna and Cesar Gonsalez accompanied him. The President placed a special train at his disposal.
Our "Own Correspondent" in London writes as follows by the Cordillera:—
"The Council of Foreign Bondholders communicate that the Committee of Argentine Nine per Cent. Treasury Bondholders, having learned that official notice has been given that there has been a drawing of some of these Bonds at par, and announcement made of the Government being ready to pay them, beg to notify that the Committee are making communications with the Government on this subject, and would suggest that the holders of drawn Bonds should abstain for the present from accepting payment.
"You will know by telegram long before I can inform you, if anything is done in regard to the Cedulas in London. Although I have made due enquiries, I have heard nothing decisive on the subject. Mr. Martinez is staying at the Grand Hotel."
The sales at the ring were as follows:—
Cedulas—
For cash A 4,800 at 100⅝-¾
For cash E 60,600 at 86½
For April 30th E 65,000 at 86½-⅝
For May 31st E 50,000 at 86⅝ to deliver.

El camino que va del Azul a Bahia cruza el campo y pasa cerca de las casas.

Sus linderos son por el Oeste Las Saladas del Doctor Ocantos (antes Joaquin Amado), al Este Ronaldson y Sheriff, Cuñoglia y Bisca, al Norte Lastra y Scott y al Sud Severino Lopez y esta marcado en el plano Meineke con el nombre de Diego Dodds.

Las bases para la venta son 130⅔ hectareas o sean 450,000⅔ mas o menos la legua, pudiendo el comprador seguir con la deuda a favor del Gobierno de la Provincia que importa 359,666⅔ pagaderos en seis anualidades de de 59,944⅔ que vencen el 18 de Diciembre de cada año.

Escusado nos parece demostrar las ventajas que ofrece una venta en estas condiciones; ademas no debe olvidarse que el gran ferro-carril del Sud, se acerca a pasos rapidisimos a su termino, que es el gran puerto de Bahia Blanca y que el 1° de Enero de 1884, iremos en tren a ese Emporio del Comercio y la Industria.

No hay en la Republica entera campos que puedan rivalizar los de este Partido, destinado a ser la California de la Republica Argentina.

Por planos y mas informes, ocurran a nuestra casa, Alsina 78.

Dysentery, Cholera Fever, Ague, Coughs, Colds, &c.
Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne
(Ex Army Medical Staff)
IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr Browne's.—See Times, July 12th 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than
Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.
REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates health action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.
CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for coughs, consumption, bronchitis, asthma.
CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests too often fatal diseases Diphtheria Fever, Crup, Ague.
CHLORODYNE acts like a charming Diarrhoea, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.
CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation and Spasms.
CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, Jan. 5th 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London—"Dear Sir, we embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly-esteemed medicine, DR COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of DR. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE in Diarrhoea, and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomitting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleratic Diarrhoea, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a "deliberate breach of faith on the part of the chemist to prescriber and patient alike." We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists."

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera—"So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all classes."

CAUTION—None genuine without the words 'Dr J Collis Browne or the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

BORWICK'S
BAKING POWDER

Used by thousands for making wholesome Bread, Cakes, Flour-Puddings, &c. Sold in 2d. 6d. 1od. 1s. and 6d. & 1s. boxes, by all Storekeepers and Grocers.

Invaluable at the Diggings and in the Bush, also on board Ship, as small loaves of the best Bread or Scones can be made in a few minutes without the aid of Yeast.

Private Ward, during the Zulu war, writes:—"I should just like you to see the real farm-house bread that I bake! The oven is one dug in the ground, and is just large enough to hold our daily quantum of two loaves. We use flour, water, salt, and BORWICK'S BAKING POWDER. My bread often surprises me, it is so light, and white as snow. Some of our men will insist that I have been 'in the trade,' and nothing I can say will convince them to the contrary."
